As an Active member of Kruisin Kanines of Perkasio, I am hereby making my application for authorization for use of the facility on a reservation basis. I have read and understand the Barn Use Policy stated below, and hereby agree to all rules as stated. Violation of any of these rules may result in forfeiture of future rights to use the facility and/or suspension of my membership in Kruisin Kanines. Furthermore, I understand that the authorization for facility use may be revoked by action of the Kruisin Kanines Board of Directors at any time.

KRUISIN KANINES AGILITY CLUB BARN USE POLICY (effective January 2014)

The Kruisin' Kanines training facility is available for member use when the facility is not being used for scheduled events and classes. Members who may sign out and use the facility are:

- Active members of Kruisin Kanines;
- Junior members of Kruisin Kanines (accompanied by an adult); and
- Senior members of Kruisin Kanines.

And who have paid their current membership dues and either their applicable class fees or training fees.

And who meet one of the following criteria:

- Has trained a dog in agility and has competed or is competing at the Novice level or higher; or
- Is training a dog in agility and is enrolled in a Kruisin Kanines Intermediate level or higher class; or
- Is enrolled in a Kruisin Kanines fixed length class and has previously trained a dog in agility and has competed or is competing at the Novice level or higher.

Failure to maintain Active Member Status or failure to pay Training Fees will result in barn reservation privileges being revoked.

A user may reserve only one area of the facility at a time, large half, small half or outdoor ring. Other areas may be used by others users. Reservations may be made for no more than 2 hours in a single day. Reservations must be made through the authorized club representative, and will be recorded on the online calendar available here:
<http://www.kruisinkanines.com/barn.htm>

Reservations may be made up to two weeks in advance. Member use takes priority over private lessons for non members. It is expected that if a member sees time slots that they would like to use being reserved for non member private lessons, that they will contact the member who is using these times, and ask if they can schedule their lessons at a different time in the future. A spirit of cooperation can hopefully help solve any conflicts.

The barn is not available for private use one hour before and one hour after any scheduled classes. This time is reserved for class set-up and instructor practice and planning.

Users may not supplant any active group training program or scheduled activity at the facility.

The reserving user is responsible for the facility, equipment, lights and other participants during the time the reserving user has signed out the facility. They must assure that all lights are turned off and the building secured (doors closed and locked) prior to leaving the building. The reserving user must assure that all equipment not being used is stored in its appropriate location.

The reserving user must police the training area upon the completion of the training session to assure that the facility is clean and clear of food, animal waste or other garbage.

The reserving user should report any damaged equipment or vandalism to the Equipment or Maintenance Head.

The reserving user is responsible to assure that all attendees sign in at the start of training and sign out at the end of the session.

The reserving user must assure that no one is left at the barn when he/she leaves. The reserving user must ask all other participants to leave when the reserving user leaves, and the reserving user may not leave the facility until all other attendees have done so.

The reserving user must report, within 24 hours, to the Training Director or co-Director and/or club President any dog-dog aggression or dog-human aggression regardless of whether the aggression causes any injury to dog or human.

If uninvited guests arrive the reserving user may include or exclude them from their group; however all of the above listed provisions still apply.

Kruisin Kanines members may use the barn for giving private lessons to all classes of members and non-members, provided such use does not interfere with other members' ability to use the facility. The purpose of this use is "to promote the training of all breeds of dogs, Purebred and All American, in the sport of dog agility," as stated in our by-laws. An additional purpose of this use is to offer an additional incentive to our instructors to continue teaching classes to members.

Instructors needing longer blocks of time to give private lessons to members with barn privileges should reserve time in excess of two hours in the name of the member. When the barn is scheduled for a private lesson for a non-member or a member without barn privileges the calendar should indicate that status with a "PL" after the reservation.

Active members who meet the criteria for Barn Use should fill out a "Use of Facility Request Form", and submit to the board for approval. Once the board has granted approval the member will be notified, and shown how to use the facility: i.e.: where the lights and locks are, how to turn on the heat, etc.

The "Use of Facility Request Form" can be found in the Members Only Section of the KK9s website.

Once a member has been granted approval, this status remains in effect at any time the member is paying Training or Barn Use Fees.

Drop in Fees for Barn Use as a Student or Guest:

Private students or any guests of the reserving user must pay the appropriate fee depending on whether they are active members, active class participants, associate members, or non-members:

Active members who have paid Training or Barn Use Fees pay no additional fees.

Active Members who have not paid training fees pay a $15 drop-in fee (As a guest of another member or for each private lesson) or a $50 eight week session fee: for eight consecutive weeks of private lessons.

Associate Members and Non-members must pay a $20 per session fee or a $50 eight week session fee.

These fees are in addition to any fee they pay their instructor.

Note: The $50 eight week session fee is for a period of eight consecutive weeks. It is not for eight weeks used at random. It is also only for student who is taking private lessons , not for guests.

Non-members must sign the liability waiver.

It is the reserving user's responsibility to assure that their students or guests pay the appropriate drop in fees; and that these fees are delivered to the Treasurer. The Treasurer will post in the barn a current list of active members who have paid their training fees.

Groups of user and their guests may not comprise more than 6 people.

Failure to follow any of the provisions of this policy is considered a serious breach of trust and the Board of Directors reserves the right to suspend a user's membership or terminate their relationship with Kruisin Kanines.

By signing this application, I am requesting extracurricular training rights to utilize the barn when it is not otherwise occupied. I understand that I must adhere to all provisions of this agreement.
